

How These Cards Came About

I spend time helping international students improve their English. Often we read articles from the newspaper, magazines, or the internet. It is hard work for those struggling with English. I noticed that looking at and discussing paintings or photographs brought relief to my friends. They responded more enthusiastically and new vocabulary emerged. They were happy to explain to me what they saw in the image. From there, the conversation flowed.

I also began to think about topics that are of universal and cultural interest. To begin, I looked at topics suggested from the Ten Commandments in the Bible. Parents, rest, worship, and sex are as relevant to us today as when these laws were written. Then I investigated the most listened-to Ted Talks, which gave me further ideas. Topics such as time, music, vulnerability, and happiness emerged. Other categories came from my experience listening to the things that matter to people.

Gradually, the images and topics came together. Sometimes I started with a favorite image or artist and sometimes I looked for a painting that seemed to carry the theme. I intentionally used quotes and images from around the world.

You will notice there are two prints of the same image. That is because the third question on each card is different: one quote is from the Bible and the other from a secular source. Both quotes bring about interesting and helpful discussion.

The Conversation Art Cards work best when you follow the instructions on the back of the title card. Thank you. I welcome your comments to kansasjfox@gmail.com.

How These Cards Came About

I spend time helping international students improve their English. Often we read articles from the newspaper, magazines, or the internet. It is hard work for those struggling with English. I noticed that looking at and discussing paintings or photographs brought relief to my friends. They responded more enthusiastically and new vocabulary emerged. They were happy to explain to me what they saw in the image. From there, the conversation flowed.

I also began to think about topics that are of universal and cultural interest. To begin, I looked at topics suggested from the Ten Commandments in the Bible. Parents, rest, worship, and sex are as relevant to us today as when these laws were written. Then I investigated the most listened-to Ted Talks, which gave me further ideas. Topics such as time, music, vulnerability, and happiness emerged. Other categories came from my experience listening to the things that matter to people.

Gradually, the images and topics came together. Sometimes I started with a favorite image or artist and sometimes I looked for a painting that seemed to carry the theme. I intentionally used quotes and images from around the world.

You will notice there are two prints of the same image. That is because the third question on each card is different: one quote is from the Bible and the other from a secular source. Both quotes bring about interesting and helpful discussion.

The Conversation Art Cards work best when you follow the instructions on the back of the title card. Thank you. I welcome your comments to kansasjfox@gmail.com.

Topics

A Good Name
A New Beginning
A Single Story
All You Need is Love
Creativity
Does Success Equal Significance?
Fake It
Happy Hour
Haters Gonna Hate
Honor Your Parents
Let Yourself Be Seen
Managing Time
Music, the Universal Language
Performance
Pursuing Intimacy and Pleasure in Sex
Satisfying Friendships
Risk
Science Denial
Scream
Something to Share
The Rhythm of Life
The Secret of Happiness
Vanitas
We Love Beauty
What Do We Adore?

Artist

Francis Hodgkins. The Piano Lesson
Vasily Kandinsky. Improvisation
JH Pierneef. Karibib, South, West Africa
Gabriel Metsu. Woman Taken in Adultry
Giuseppe Arcimboldo. Summer
Page from Illuminted Gospel, Ethiopia
Diego Velazquez. The Water Carrier of Seville
Rezi Abbasi. Youth Kneeling and Holding Out a Wine Cup
Frederic Leighton. The Reconciliation of the Montagues and Capulets
Jozsef Rippl-Ronai. My Parents After 40 Years of Marriage
Eugene Delacroix. Orphan Girl at the Cemetery
Zhang Zeduan. Part of the Qingming Scroll
Jose Ferraz de Almeida Junior. The Guitar Player
Edgar Degas. The Singer in Green
Gustav Klimt. The Kiss
Henry Ossawa Tanner. The Banjo Lesson
Rembrandt van Rijn. St. Paul in Prison
Galileo. Image of the Moon
Edvard Munch. The Scream
Nicolae Tonitza. Queuing for Bread
Ilya Repin Joaquin Sorolla. The Young Amphibians
Vincent van Gogh. Sorrowing Old Man
Adrianen van Utrecht. Still Life with Bouquet and Skull
Bronzino (Agnolo di Cosimo di Mariano.) Portrait of a Young Man
Alexander Ivanov. Adoration of the Golden Calf

Topics

A Good Name
A New Beginning
A Single Story
All You Need is Love
Creativity
Does Success Equal Significance?
Fake It
Happy Hour
Haters Gonna Hate
Honor Your Parents
Let Yourself Be Seen
Managing Time
Music, the Universal Language
Performance
Pursuing Intimacy and Pleasure in Sex
Satisfying Friendships
Risk
Science Denial
Scream
Something to Share
The Rhythm of Life
The Secret of Happiness
Vanitas
We Love Beauty
What Do We Adore?

Artist

Francis Hodgkins. The Piano Lesson
Vasily Kandinsky. Improvisation
JH Pierneef. Karibib, South, West Africa
Gabriel Metsu. Woman Taken in Adultry
Giuseppe Arcimboldo. Summer
Page from Illuminted Gospel, Ethiopia
Diego Velazquez. The Water Carrier of Seville
Rezi Abbasi. Youth Kneeling and Holding Out a Wine Cup
Frederic Leighton. The Reconciliation of the Montagues and Capulets
Jozsef Rippl-Ronai. My Parents After 40 Years of Marriage
Eugene Delacroix. Orphan Girl at the Cemetery
Zhang Zeduan. Part of the Qingming Scroll
Jose Ferraz de Almeida Junior. The Guitar Player
Edgar Degas. The Singer in Green
Gustav Klimt. The Kiss
Henry Ossawa Tanner. The Banjo Lesson
Rembrandt van Rijn. St. Paul in Prison
Galileo. Image of the Moon
Edvard Munch. The Scream
Nicolae Tonitza. Queuing for Bread
Ilya Repin Joaquin Sorolla. The Young Amphibians
Vincent van Gogh. Sorrowing Old Man
Adrianen van Utrecht. Still Life with Bouquet and Skull
Bronzino (Agnolo di Cosimo di Mariano.) Portrait of a Young Man
Alexander Ivanov. Adoration of the Golden Calf

Topics

Artist

A Good Name	Francis Hodgkins. The Piano Lesson
A New Beginning	Vasily Kandinsky. Improvisation
A Single Story	JH Pierneef. Karibib, South, West Africa
All You Need is Love	Gabriel Metsu. Woman Taken in Adultery
Creativity	Giuseppe Arcimboldo. Summer
Does Success Equal Significance?	Page from Illuminted Gospel, Ethiopia
Fake It	Diego Velazquez. The Water Carrier of Seville
Happy Hour	Rezi Abbasi. Youth Kneeling and Holding Out a Wine Cup
Haters Gonna Hate	Frederic Leighton. The Reconciliation of the Montagues and Capulets
Honor Your Parents	Jozsef Rippl-Ronai. My Parents After 40 Years of Marriage
Let Yourself Be Seen	Eugene Delacroix. Orphan Girl at the Cemetery
Managing Time	Zhang Zeduan. Part of the Qingming Scroll
Music, the Universal Language	Jose Ferraz de Almeida Junior. The Guitar Player
Performance	Edgar Degas. The Singer in Green
Pursuing Intimacy and Pleasure in Sex	Gustav Klimt. The Kiss
Satisfying Friendships	Henry Ossawa Tanner. The Banjo Lesson
Risk	Rembrandt van Rijn. St. Paul in Prison
Science Denial	Galileo. Image of the Moon
Scream	Edvard Munch. The Scream
Something to Share	Nicolae Tonitza. Queuing for Bread
The Rhythm of Life	Ilya Repin Joaquin Sorolla. The Young Amphibians
The Secret of Happiness	Vincent van Gogh. Sorrowing Old Man
Vanitas	Adrianen van Utrecht. Still Life with Bouquet and Skull
We Love Beauty	Bronzino (Agnolo di Cosimo di Mariano.) Portrait of a Young Man
What Do We Adore?	Alexander Ivanov. Adoration of the Golden Calf

How These Cards Came About

I spend time helping international students improve their English. Often we read articles from the newspaper, magazines, or the internet. It is hard work for those struggling with English. I noticed that looking at and discussing paintings or photographs brought relief to my friends. They responded more enthusiastically and new vocabulary emerged. They were happy to explain to me what they saw in the image. From there, the conversation flowed.

I also began to think about topics that are of universal and cultural interest. To begin, I looked at topics suggested from the Ten Commandments in the Bible. Parents, rest, worship, and sex are as relevant to us today as when these laws were written. Then I investigated the most listened-to Ted Talks, which gave me further ideas. Topics such as time, music, vulnerability, and happiness emerged. Other categories came from my experience listening to the things that matter to people.

Gradually, the images and topics came together. Sometimes I started with a favorite image or artist and sometimes I looked for a painting that seemed to carry the theme. I intentionally used quotes and images from around the world.

You will notice there are two prints of the same image. That is because the third question on each card is different: one quote is from the Bible and the other from a secular source. Both quotes bring about interesting and helpful discussion.

The Conversation Art Cards work best when you follow the instructions on the back of the title card. Thank you. I welcome your comments to kansasjfox@gmail.com.

Topics

Artist

A Good Name	Francis Hodgkins. The Piano Lesson
A New Beginning	Vasily Kandinsky. Improvisation
A Single Story	JH Pierneef. Karibib, South, West Africa
All You Need is Love	Gabriel Metsu. Woman Taken in Adultery
Creativity	Giuseppe Arcimboldo. Summer
Does Success Equal Significance?	Page from Illuminted Gospel, Ethiopia
Fake It	Diego Velazquez. The Water Carrier of Seville
Happy Hour	Rezi Abbasi. Youth Kneeling and Holding Out a Wine Cup
Haters Gonna Hate	Frederic Leighton. The Reconciliation of the Montagues and Capulets
Honor Your Parents	Jozsef Rippl-Ronai. My Parents After 40 Years of Marriage
Let Yourself Be Seen	Eugene Delacroix. Orphan Girl at the Cemetery
Managing Time	Zhang Zeduan. Part of the Qingming Scroll
Music, the Universal Language	Jose Ferraz de Almeida Junior. The Guitar Player
Performance	Edgar Degas. The Singer in Green
Pursuing Intimacy and Pleasure in Sex	Gustav Klimt. The Kiss
Satisfying Friendships	Henry Ossawa Tanner. The Banjo Lesson
Risk	Rembrandt van Rijn. St. Paul in Prison
Science Denial	Galileo. Image of the Moon
Scream	Edvard Munch. The Scream
Something to Share	Nicolae Tonitza. Queuing for Bread
The Rhythm of Life	Ilya Repin Joaquin Sorolla. The Young Amphibians
The Secret of Happiness	Vincent van Gogh. Sorrowing Old Man
Vanitas	Adrianen van Utrecht. Still Life with Bouquet and Skull
We Love Beauty	Bronzino (Agnolo di Cosimo di Mariano.) Portrait of a Young Man
What Do We Adore?	Alexander Ivanov. Adoration of the Golden Calf

How These Cards Came About

I spend time helping international students improve their English. Often we read articles from the newspaper, magazines, or the internet. It is hard work for those struggling with English. I noticed that looking at and discussing paintings or photographs brought relief to my friends. They responded more enthusiastically and new vocabulary emerged. They were happy to explain to me what they saw in the image. From there, the conversation flowed.

I also began to think about topics that are of universal and cultural interest. To begin, I looked at topics suggested from the Ten Commandments in the Bible. Parents, rest, worship, and sex are as relevant to us today as when these laws were written. Then I investigated the most listened-to Ted Talks, which gave me further ideas. Topics such as time, music, vulnerability, and happiness emerged. Other categories came from my experience listening to the things that matter to people.

Gradually, the images and topics came together. Sometimes I started with a favorite image or artist and sometimes I looked for a painting that seemed to carry the theme. I intentionally used quotes and images from around the world.

You will notice there are two prints of the same image. That is because the third question on each card is different: one quote is from the Bible and the other from a secular source. Both quotes bring about interesting and helpful discussion.

The Conversation Art Cards work best when you follow the instructions on the back of the title card. Thank you. I welcome your comments to kansasjfox@gmail.com.