

Something to Share

1. To live well, people must have their essential needs met. What are some of your essential needs, things you can't live without?
Are there things in your life that you would like to have, but don't necessarily need?
2. Share about a time when you had a need that was met, perhaps in a way that was unexpected. How did you feel when that happened?
3. When people steal, they are taking something that belongs to someone else. Stealing is the opposite of sharing. Ephesians 4:28 says "Anyone who has been stealing must steal no longer, but must work, doing something useful with their own hands, that they may have something to share with those in need."
Think about situations in the workplace, at home, school, or in personal relationships.
What are ways or things that people steal today?
What do you think of Paul's advice?
What advice would you give a thief?
4. In what ways do people show generosity? The painting, "Queuing for Bread," shows people in need, waiting for bread.
Draw something that depicts generosity.

Nicolae Tonitza. Queuing for bread, 1920. Oil on canvas, 500 x 475 cm. Private Collection

Something to Share

1. To live well, people must have their essential needs met. What are some of your essential needs, things you can't live without?
Are there things in your life that you would like to have, but don't necessarily need?
2. Share about a time when you had a need that was met, perhaps in a way that was unexpected. How did you feel when that happened?
3. When people steal, they are taking something that belongs to someone else. Stealing is the opposite of sharing. Ephesians 4:28 says "Anyone who has been stealing must steal no longer, but must work, doing something useful with their own hands, that they may have something to share with those in need."
Think about situations in the workplace, at home, school, or in personal relationships.
What are ways or things that people steal today?
What do you think of Paul's advice?
What advice would you give a thief?
4. In what ways do people show generosity? The painting, "Queuing for Bread," shows people in need, waiting for bread.
Draw something that depicts generosity.

Nicolae Tonitza. Queuing for bread, 1920. Oil on canvas, 500 x 475 cm. Private Collection

Nicolae Tonitza. Queuing for bread, 1920. Oil on canvas, 500 x 475 cm. Private Collection

Nicolae Tonitza. Queuing for bread, 1920. Oil on canvas, 500 x 475 cm. Private Collection

Something to Share

1. To live well, people must have their essential needs met. What are some of your essential needs, things you can't live without?
Are there things in your life that you would like to have, but don't necessarily need?
2. Share about a time when you had a need that was met, perhaps in a way that was unexpected. How did you feel when that happened?
3. When people steal, they are taking something that belongs to someone else. Stealing is the opposite of sharing. Ephesians 4:28 says "Anyone who has been stealing must steal no longer, but must work, doing something useful with their own hands, that they may have something to share with those in need."
Think about situations in the workplace, at home, school, or in personal relationships. What are ways or things that people steal today?
What do you think of Paul's advice?
What advice would you give a thief?
4. In what ways do people show generosity? The painting, "Queuing for Bread," shows people in need, waiting for bread.
Draw something that depicts generosity.

Something to Share

1. To live well, people must have their essential needs met. What are some of your essential needs, things you can't live without?
Are there things in your life that you would like to have, but don't necessarily need?
2. Share about a time when you had a need that was met, perhaps in a way that was unexpected. How did you feel when that happened?
3. When people steal, they are taking something that belongs to someone else. Stealing is the opposite of sharing. Ephesians 4:28 says "Anyone who has been stealing must steal no longer, but must work, doing something useful with their own hands, that they may have something to share with those in need."
Think about situations in the workplace, at home, school, or in personal relationships. What are ways or things that people steal today?
What do you think of Paul's advice?
What advice would you give a thief?
4. In what ways do people show generosity? The painting, "Queuing for Bread," shows people in need, waiting for bread.
Draw something that depicts generosity.